New Flat Panel Display Measurements Standard (FPDM) 1.0

$39.95 (plus S/H) -- Members

This standard provides measurement procedures to quantify flat panel display characteristics. Performance criteria or performance minima are not specified; rather, a series of measurements are clearly detailed to enable unambiguous and reproducible measurements of displays using the simplest instrumentation that will provide adequate results. All measurements need not be performed. The measurements that are most applicable to the display purposes can be selected as desired. Diagnostics and metrological difficulties are addressed, and technical discussions are presented to assist those unfamiliar with light measurements.
